Who is Bókun?

Born in Iceland, Raised by Tripadvisor. Bokun forms part of the Tripadvisor Family along with Viator. Bókun is an all-in-one software solution designed to help tour & experience providers stay organised and grow bookings.

Together, our brands sit at the heart of the travel industry and the traveller experience.

Experiences are the most influential part of the travel-planning process

98% of travellers said experiences are very or extremely important when considering where to go.

Once upon a time, travelers might have picked a destination first and only later started choosing what to do upon arrival. But today's travelers don't treat experiences as afterthoughts. Their travel decisions are increasingly based on specific activity interests. This can invert the trip-planning funnel, placing experiences at the top and destination choices further down the cone.

Why are experiences so prominent in travelers' thoughts during the trip-planning stage? One potential explanation is the widespread, general preference for spending on experiences instead of things. A 2023 report on tourism trends found that consumers' spending on experiences was up 65 percent from 2019, while spending on physical products rose only 12 percent over the same
